

Main Line Health

Learning from Teaching

Outcomes from Learning Associated with Preparation for Teaching in Undergraduate Medical Education and Graduate Medical Education

Instructions to Teachers Applying for AMA PRA Teaching Credits: As the final stage in your learning experience related to teaching, please reflect on the outcomes of your personal educational experience in the preparation for teaching medical students or residents. Indicate what you learned in the categories of Learning from Teaching below that were applicable to your specific teaching assignment. Insert text describing specific competence, skills or knowledge gained from each applicable aspect of your preparation for teaching.

1. Preparing for a student/resident encounter or teaching
session

☐ NA

2. Literature
searching;
updating
bibliographies;
synthesizing
literature

☐ NA

3. Researching case materials
related to presentations

☐ NA

4. Case discussion prompting questions and information seeking

☐ NA

5. Researching clinical questions online or in journals and other text sources

☐ NA

6. Reflection on teaching encounters and undertaking improvements; developing learning / teaching plans

☐ NA

7. Developing educational materials related to case or clinical problems

☐ NA

Name of Teacher

Date of Teaching Activity

Teacher's Institutional Affiliation

Contact Phone Number

Date Submitted to Office of CME

After completing the above outcomes assessment, please return it to Trish Levy, Manager of CME at Main Line Health by clicking on the Email Form button to the right, which will automatically populate an e-mail screen and attach this document to it. Or, you may print and fax the completed form by click on the Print Form button to the right and faxing it to 484-476-6843