

Contribute your story to the “Fabric of the Community” art project

When Main Line Health King of Prussia opens this March, the Women’s Specialty Center will feature a beautiful art installation of fabrics arranged in a floral display. Our goal is to create this artwork using pieces of fabric contributed by community members. Whether it’s a toddler’s outgrown T-shirt or a piece of your prom dress, we’ll be collecting all kinds of fabric donations—and the personal stories that go with them.

INSTRUCTIONS Help us collect fabric pieces, roughly the size of a scarf, that will be used to create this art piece. Any clean fabric is welcome. If you wish to share the story behind your donation, please include the following form with your fabric in a bag. With your permission, a portion of your story may be shared via an interactive display.
